Mr. Bening is a coverage specialist having represented both insureds and insurers in diverse matters for more than 25 years. He is recognized by both plaintiff and defense counsel, insurers and insureds, as having a keen understanding of their perspective. With an in-depth knowledge of coverage matters, Mr. Bening can readily assess the issues for plaintiffs, insureds and insurers while taking into consideration how insurance impacts the settlement.

With a success rate of more than 98 percent, Mr. Bening has successfully mediated insurance, business, real estate, construction, intellectual property, corporate and partnership disputes and professional liability matters, including:

- A complex dispute between a large general contractor and seven subcontractors in a dispute arising out of $5 million in claimed construction defects.
